History of the University of Cincinnati.

For an adequate conception of the University of Cincinnati, its growth, organization, its component parts, and its aims and aspirations, it is necessary to go back about a century and trace the varied and honorable career of several institutions.

In the year 1814 a number of Cincinnati gentlemen organized the Cincinnati-Lancaster Seminary. Before the building was entirely completed, although the school had been functioning for several years, three prominent citizens of Cincinnati had secured legislation from the General Assembly authorizing the incorporation of the "President, Trustees and Faculty of the Cincinnati College." Through this legislation the scope of the seminary was greatly broadened. This act was passed in January, 1819, its foremost advocates being General William Little, Jacob Burnet, and Doctor Daniel Drake.

The new college was now merged with the old Cincinnati-Lancaster Seminary, and was opened shortly afterwards and continued in operation until 1825.

In the year 1834 and 1835, other subscriptions were obtained and the college was reorganized. Besides the regular academic courses, departments in medicine and law were added. All departments, except that of the law school which still is in existence, passed out within a few years.

In the same year of the organization of the Cincinnati College, the Medical College of Ohio received its charter. This new institution opened its doors for the reception of students in 1820. The oldest institution west of the Alleghenies, with a long period of honorable and useful service, it became in the year 1896, the College of Medicine of the University of Cincinnati.

The interesting history of the Cincinnati Observatory must be followed for thirty years before the time is reached when a new institution--a municipal university--comes into existence. The Cincinnati Astronomical Society was formed in 1852. Three hundred shares of stock were sold, and an eleven-inch equatorial, the largest in the country at that time, was purchased. The original site on Mount Adams was donated by the Honorable Nicholas Longworth, and in spite of financial depression and many other difficulties, the cornerstone of the Observatory Building was laid on November 9, 1834, by the Ex-President John Quincy Adams.

In 1872, a short time after the formal incorporation of the University of Cincinnati, the Astronomical Society transferred its property to the new institution. At the same time, a new location on Mount Lookout was donated and a new building erected. Since that date, astronomical work of high order has been carried on continuously.

Passing now to the history of the University, and its adsorbtion of the above institutions.

After the death of Charles McMicken, in 1858, it was learned that he had given to the city of Cincinnati most of his estate valued at about one million dollars for the purpose of establishing and maintaining "two colleges for the education of white boys and girls." Nearly half of the property devised by Mr. McMicken situated in the state of Louisiana was lost. As the rest of the property, that in Cincinnati and vicinity did not yield enough to provide for the establishment of two colleges, the revenue derived from the estate was for ten years applied to its improvement.

For some years after 1869, the trustees of the estate gave certain financial assistance to a school of design, transferred in the year 1884 to the Cincinnati Museum Association. In 1879, by an act of state, Cincinnati proceeded to the incorporation of the University of Cincinnati.

The income from the original fund having proved inadequate, the City in the year 1893, undertook to aid in the support of the University through public taxation, assessing three-tenths of a mill, and in 1906 five-tenths.

The College of Engineering, organized under that name in 1900, became a distinct department, with a dean at its head in 1904. In 1896 the Medical College of Ohio became the College of Medicine of the University; since that time the Clinical and Pathological School have been known as the Department of Clinical Medicine.

Since that year 1900, the expansion of the University has been rapid, the last addition being the school of Household Administration in 1924.

The University now contains the following colleges:

McMicken College of Liberal Arts

Graduate School

College of Engineering and Commerce

College of Education

College of Medicine

College of Law

School of Household Administration

School of Applied Arts

School of Nursing and Health

Wealth, Equipment and Building

From 1875 to 1895 the Academic Department occupied the building erected on the grounds of the McMicken homestead as required by the will of the founder. This location proving altogether unsatisfactory, application was made to the courts for permission to remove to a more suitable location in Burnet Woods. This permission having been obtained steps were immediately taken for the construction of a main building, called McMicken Hall which was completed in two years.

This building stands on high ground at the southern end of the park, forty-three acres of this park having been set aside as a location for the University. During the years 1895 and 1896 a north wing, known as Hanna Hall was built from the funds amounting to $70,000.00, provided by Henry Hanna. The south wing, named Cunningham Hall was built in 1898 and 1899 given by Briggs S. Cunningham at a cost of $60,000.00.

The Van Wormer Library, built at an expenditure of approximately $60,000.00 was a gift of Asa Van Wormer and was erected during the years 1898 and 1900.

The Observatory, gift of John Kilgour, cost $10,000.00, and was erected on Mount Lookout, several miles distant from the other University buildings. A smaller structure the O. M. Mitchel Building was added in 1904 to house the old telescope. In the year 1912 this building was enlarged by the addition of a lecture room, a library, and another small dome.

On May 25, 1925 Mrs. Mary Emery made an offer of $250,000.00 for the construction of a new medical college building, on condition that an additional $250,000.00 be raised for equipment. To meet the condition of Mrs. Emery's gift, donations were received to the amount of $255,000.00, making a total of $505,000.00. The building was completed in the year 1917, being located on twelve acres of ground at Eden Avenue. This ground was a gift of the City of Cincinnati.

A gymnasium, power plant and engineering building provided by the City at a cost of $550,000.00 were completed in December 1911.

In April 1924 a dormitory for the men students was completed.

The James Gamble Nippert stadium, erected as a memorial to his grandson was the gift of Mr. James M. Gamble. This was completed in 1924.

In November 1924, a building for research was given to the University by the Tanners' Council of America.

For a great number of years the College of Law was located in the Mercantile Library Building, on the site of the old Lancaster Seminary, of which it is the direct and sole successor. From the period between the years 1902 and 1920, the college was located at 21 West Ninth Street. From 1920 until the completion of the Alphonson Taft Hall on the University Grounds in the year 1925, the College of Law was housed in the building which formerly was occupied on Clifton Avenue, at the western side of Vine Street.

Largely through the generosity of Mr. John B. Swift, a new Electrical Engineering Building, Swift Hall was completed in 1926. This was as a memorial to the brother of Mr. Swift, Thomas Truxon Swift.

Carson Field, adjacent to the Gymnasium, contains a baseball diamond, a foot ball gridiron, and a quarter-mile cinder track with a hundred-and-twenty yard straight-away extending in front of the new grand stand. The gymnasium, with its cork-covered running track, white-tiled swimming pool and spacious locker rooms, affords excellent facilities for indoor work.

The Museum of Natural History housed in the Old Tech Building, contains a number of geological and biological collections.

The Libraries of the University, excluding the Historical and Philosophical Society of Ohio contain 164,700 volumes. The Public Library, the Mercantile Library and Museum are open to University Students.

The Institution is supported largely by three sources of revenue; taxation, gift and tuition paid by the students.

 the first semester and are computed on a basis of:
 - - 50-60%, 2 - 60-70%, 3 - 70-80%, 4 - 80-90%, 5 - 90-100%.

The source of support of the University Band are twofold. At the beginning of each school year a budget of expenses is presented to Student Council by the President of the Band. At the apportionment of the student activity fee, the band is allotted its quota. For the past two years, the Band has had the third highest budget of any organization on the Campus. For the last three years, it has averaged $1500.00. The other sources of income is through the payment of dues, $1.00 per year from each member of the Band. These funds cover all expenses of trips, uniforms, instruments, music and service of leader.

Due to the strict rules of the American Federation of Musicians in Cincinnati, it is almost impossible to present any programs away from the campus. The Band presents an annual concert and occasionally broadcasts through the local radio stations. Outside of these occasions, its activities are limited to the Campus. Grade "B" music is most commonly used as indicated by the following programs.

Program presented at Commencement 1927.

March-National Emblem, Bagley
Overture-Poet and Peasant, Suppe
Selections-American Fantasia, Foster
Melodies-Babes in Toyland, Herbert
Intermission
March-Pasadena Day, Vessela
Overture-Light Cavalry, Suppe
Prelude in C# Minor, Rachminoff
The Stars and Stripes Forever, Sousa

Program to be presented at Buckeye Band Association Contest.
May 19, 1928 at Delaware, Ohio.

March-Imperial Guards, Foss
Prelude-Suite from Ancienne, Hadley
Overture-Luspiel, Bele Keler
Selections-Prince of Pilsen, Luders
March-The Stars and Stripes Forever, Sousa

Since the forming of the University Band in the fall of 1923, its importance in the affairs of the Campus has rapidly grown. It plays for all athletic affairs, including football, basket ball and baseball games. It plays for all Pow-wows, and pep meetings, takes part in the Commencement Baccalaureate Services, Commencement Exercises and gives a concert in the evening of the Commencement Day. Each year it donated its services to the Holy Name Day Society for the mammoth parade in the heart of the city. The appearance of the Band on these occasions has never failed to bring favorable comments from the public as to appearance and musical ability.

The Band is greatly handicapped in that the majority of its members are students in the Engineering College. The Band was organized through the local R.O.T.C. unit and equipped with instruments. This is without a doubt the reason for its limited membership. Many of its men are forced to work out of town, every other month by the Co-operative System in use in the Engineering College. A rehearsal of the entire Band is an Impossibility as the members are never all in the city at the same time. Last year the Band made forty-two public appearances on the Campus, considerably more than any other organization. Each year the Band selects an outstanding girl of the Senior Class to act as its Band Sponsor. She represents the good feeling of the student body for the Band and goes wherever the Band goes. It is a coveted honor upon the Campus and is looked forward to each year by those of the Band and the Senior Class. Presentation and announcement are made at one of the football games and the lucky girl is presented with a bouquet of red roses.

A minor "C" or gold service key is presented to those in the Band who serve faithfully for three consecutive years. This creates an incentive and furnishes a suitable award.

The Band is growing rapidly and extending to all the various colleges on the Campus. It is a vital necessity at the University and it is pointed to with pride by the townspeople of Cincinnati.

To Whom It May Concern:

This is to state that the University Band is a thriving organization which plays an important part in students activities. The members of the Band are an excellent group of young men, and I have no hesitancy whatever in recommending them for admission to Kappa Kappa Psi Fraternity.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) H. Schneider
Acting President.

Secretary,
Kappa Kappa Psi Fraternity.

Gentlemen:

The members of the band of the University of Cincinnati have asked me to write to you concerning their organization, which is petitioning for a charter in your fraternity.

My direct contact with the band is very slight and I have therefore requested Professor Andregg, who is in direct touch with their activities to inform me concerning the organization. The following is quoted from his letter to me: "the band has been active in student affairs for the past five years. They have played at all pow-wows, football games, and basket-ball games for that length of time. For the past three years they have played for the Commencement Day March, and later given a concert at Home-coming. The band is made up mostly of engineers, and although I have never checked up their scholastic standing, I know most of them personally and know them to be a high type of student."

I am quite sure that our band fills a very important place in our student activities and that it has shown steady and marked improvement in recent years. That their performance is highly creditable is indicated by the fact that for several years they have been asked to play at the Commencement Exercises where formerly we engaged professional organizations to furnish the music.

The establishment of a charter of your fraternity here would undoubtedly be very stimulating to our musical activities and I believe there is no doubt that you would be able to form a strong chapter at this institution. I trust that you will see your way clear to grant a charter to these petitioners.

Very truly yours,
R. C. Gowdy
Acting Dean, College of Engineering and Commerce

To Whom It May Concern:

For several years, the University of Cincinnati has enjoyed the expert services of a student band composed of fifty members. Last season they were organized into a local fraternity known as Delta Mu Sigma. I understand that they are now petitioning to enter the National Kappa Kappa Psi Fraternity.

Allow me to state in behalf of these petitioners that they constitute a fine body of men representing all colleges of the University, that they are most effective in their work, practicing every weekday except one, and performing at all public exercises of the University where music of this sort would be in place. They have proved an invaluable aid to the authorities on many occasions, and I cannot too heartily recommend them for inclusion in the national fraternity.

Signed- Frank W. Chandler
Dean of the College of Liberal Arts.

To Kappa Kappa Psi.

It gives me considerable pleasure to recommend most highly ~~Delta~~ Mu Sigma at the University of Cincinnati for membership in Kappa Kappa Psi. In my capacity as Faculty Advisor for both the University Band and Delta Mu Sigma, I have come into personal contact with its members and consider them to be of high calibre, active men on the campus, in the class rooms, and in civil life. It is without a doubt a true Honorary Musical Fraternity.

To Kappa Kappa Psi.

Gentlemen:

It is with great pleasure that I take this opportunity to recommend the University of Cincinnati Band for membership in your association.

I have been leader of the band for nearly five years, and feel justified in saying that it compares favorably with the better class of semi-professional organizations.

The members of the band are selected on a competitive basis, and only the better class of standard music is played.

Hoping that this recommendation will meet with your approval

I am

sincerely yours,
Signed-Victor Norling

To the officers and members of Kappa Kappa Psi. Fraternity:

I am informed that the local fraternity, Delta Mu Sigma, composed of members of the University Band, is petitioning you for a charter. This group is indeed worthy of your consideration. I have seen the band grow from ~~six~~ men, all we could muster back in 1920, to a first-class concert band, which chooses its membership from over a hundred applicants. From such a group there will always be plenty of excellent material. The Scholastic standing of the members is necessarily high, due to the rule which forbids participation in activities to those whose school record is not entirely satisfactory.

I am confident that your fraternity will make no mistake in granting this group a charter, and I recommend them to you most highly.

Very truly yours,
Ralph A. VanWye
Assistant Professor Department of Coordination.

HISTORY OF DELTA MU SIGMA

Through the efforts of the Officers of the University Band and several of its other members, it was decided to form an Honorary Bandmen's Fraternity in the spring of 1927. The organization meeting was held May 3 and a constitution ~~q~~rafted and adopted. An official badge was designed and the order placed with L. G. Balfour Co., Attleboro, Mass. Delta Mu Sigma was the name selected and the colors black and gold were chosen. Officers for the year were chosen as follows: President William J. Grabo, Vice Pres. Forrest ^gagley, Recording Sec. Carroll Jensen Cor. Sec. Francis Todd, Treas. Clemmer Mitchell.

The progress of the organization has been rapid, it becoming recognized and well known on the Campus at it is the only musical fraternity at Cincinnati. ^eNineteen men were taken in as charter members. ^Ats influence in the University Band has been keenly felt, due to the calibre of men chosen for membership. Due to the great amount of work required in the Band under the Co-operative System in the Engineering College, the Fratern^ety has been of most valuable importance.

Much valuable information and many suggestions were received from Kappa Kappa Psi Chapters at Ohio ^{STATE} ^AUniversity and Ohio Northern University. Profiting by this information, it was decided at the first meeting in February of 1928 to petition Kappa Kappa Psi for the install^Ation of a local Chapter at Cincinnati. Francis Todd was elected Petition Editor and a committee drafted to draw up a petition.

Two Pledges were chosen from the Band at the Annual Band Banquet held March 6, 1928. These men initiated April 24, bringing the total active membership to twenty-one. Prof R. A. Andregg has acted as Faculty Advisor. Harold Best and E. J. Walter, former Band President, have been taken in as Honorary members. The condition of the organization is the present time is very good and the future outlook is exceptionally bright.

CONSTITUTION
